CHICAGO, June 28.—Back beside Lake Michigan, seated in the stadium for the Democratic convention. There, for days to come, Democratic hopes and Democratic hates will roar, as Lake Michigan's waters roar down Niagara's cliff, farther east.
Trained reporters will tell you the news.

HERE you may read about people. Other happenings, as far from politics as that northern Tannenbaum from the southern palm, must be neglected today.
Mr. McAdoo was at the station early, to meet the Santa Fe Chief. Ordinarily, when you say to a man of middle age, "You look younger than you did 20 years ago," you mean really "What, are you still alive?"
Not so with Mr. McAdoo. He is thin, active, eager, youthful. He can press his finger against his solar plexus and feel the vertebrae on the other side. Try that on yourself. You will be surprised.
But he cannot wait, he is hurrying to meet "the most charming person in the world." Certainly you guessed it, Woodrow Wilson's daughter, Mrs. McAdoo.

THERE are many waiting in many rooms, on the Blackstone's seventh floor, where Commissioner Curry, head of Tammany hall, has his headquarters. The ordinary people in a big inside room.
Mr. McCooey of Brooklyn is there. Don't say "I do not know him," even if you live in Seattle, for that argument that you are unknown. He is talking to Judge Daniel F. Conahan, who can talk Gaelic, and also common sense in politics.
THERE is Judge Olvany, once Tammany's head, and there are many others, including the "promising young ones" encouraged by Tammany, as a good horseman encourages young colts.
The young and promising include Mr. Curry's son, who says, "Father would like to see you before you go."

MR. CURRY, whom Tammany obeys, as his legions obeyed Lucullus, is in another inside room, the inside of all.
In peace and comfort, all alone he is eating his breakfast. You need not ask about his health. The breakfast includes a large sirloin steak, fried potatoes, hot biscuit, coffee and only fragments remain.

MR. CURRY calls, and Mrs. Curry comes from an adjoining room to see that he is not letting himself be bothered too much. Happy the man, great or small, that possesses a devoted, intelligent wife, to make him live wisely. The thing cannot be done, otherwise.

MORE DETAILS TO BE STUDIED, COUNCIL SAYS

Will Hold Special Meet Tonight, But Won't Get Ordinance

MEASURE NOW SET FOR NEXT SESSION

General Reduction of 15 Per Cent In Salaries Is Object

An ordinance proposing general reductions of approximately 15 per cent in salaries of municipal officers and employees probably will not be ready for final action by council until next Tuesday, according to announcement today by members of the legislative body.
It was originally planned to submit the ordinance to council at a special meeting tonight.
However, the special meeting will be held as scheduled and salons are expected to discuss additional problems that have arisen in connection with the proposed economy movement, which, in the event it is given the necessary approval, will mean substantial savings, councilmen point out, for the city.

With the municipal income reduced as a result of economic conditions, members of the finance and appropriations committees of council found it necessary to reduce expenditures. Salary reductions among both elective and appointive officers, as well as employees, are expected to assist materially in the preparation of the budget which is to be in the hands of the county auditor by July 15.
A settlement from tax collections is expected by Auditor Karl Webster this week.

Two From County Receive Paroles

Two Columbiana county prisoners were among 84 inmates at London prison farm and Mansfield reformatory granted paroles today by the state board of pardons and paroles.
Robert Datcher, sentenced for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent, will be freed on September 1 while Dana Brooks, serving a sentence for burglary, will be released on August 1.
Both are inmates of Mansfield reformatory.

DONAHAY JAILS LEETONIA MAN

Arrest Follows Altercation In Mayor's Office Here

Said to have accused County Dog Warden C. E. Donahay of "refusing to do his duty," August Ceroni of Leetonia, arrested following an argument with Donahay in the office of Mayor John M. Davidson this morning, is being held in city jail on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The charge was preferred against Ceroni by Donahay after the latter ordered the man from Davidson's office and then lodged him in city jail. He will be arraigned in the mayor's court this afternoon.
Ceroni appeared before Davidson this morning to file a complaint against a Salem township farmer whom he said was harboring a dog without a license. Davidson referred him to the dog warden who refused to take action in the case unless Ceroni posted $860 to secure costs in the case.
Ceroni, explaining that he did not have the money, asked Donahay to investigate the case for himself and file an action against the man.

Plaintiff Favored In Verdict of Jury

LISBON, June 28.—A jury in common pleas court has returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the appeal action of Mrs. Jessie B. Westlake of Columbiana against the Industrial Commission of Ohio.
The jury determined that the plaintiff had a right to participate in the funds of the commission, as a result of the death of her husband from injuries received while he was employed by the Production Foundry Co., at Columbiana.

Gas Found As Cause Of Ohio Explosion

COLUMBUS, June 28.—The million dollar state office building explosion in April, when ten workmen met death, was caused by "an accumulation of gas under the lower part of the structure," a special investigating committee reported to Gov. George White today.

She Booms a Loud Boom for Garner

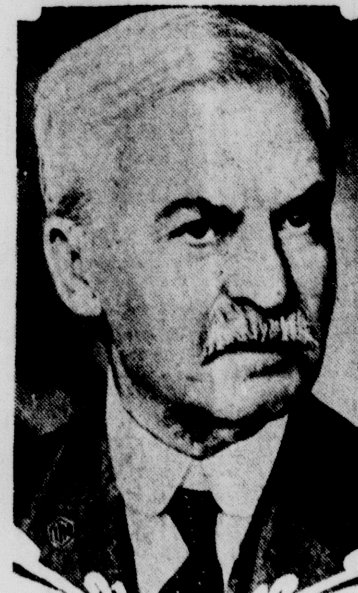

They're Rivals for Chairmanship

Joutet Shouse

If there had not been anything in the way of platforms, two-thirds rules, a dozen or more candidates and a few other odds and ends to stir things up at the Democratic convention in Chicago, they might have counted on this lass (at left) to make some noise.
Pretty Melvena Pasmore of Houston, Texas, proves to be the loudest boomer in Chicago for the presidential nomination of Speaker John N. Garner. It's a trifle early for nominations yet, but the candidates, nevertheless, are on the job and Garner's name is frequently heard as one of the strongest possibilities in the event that Governor Roosevelt of New York, who has a majority of delegates pledged, fails, in the long run, to hurdle the two-thirds rule barrier.

At the right are two candidates for the permanent chairmanship of the convention. Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana is backed by supporters of Roosevelt, and Joutet Shouse of Kansas is the choice of the opposition to the Roosevelt candidacy.
Every canvass today indicated the result will be close when the balloting begins.

LAUNCH PLANS FOR TRI-COUNTY GRANGE OUTING

Columbiana, Mahoning, Portage Farmers To Picnic Aug. 13

The annual Tri-county grange picnic will be held Saturday, Aug. 13, it was announced today. This grange association is composed of Columbiana, Mahoning and Portage counties and the event is always attended by hundreds of grangers.

Invite Farm Units
All farm organizations in these counties together with all 4-H clubs are invited to the picnic.
Representatives of the granges in the unit met Monday evening at Goshen grange hall, northwest of the city, and elected officers and appointed committees to arrange for the affair.

C. B. Zaiser of Portage county heads the organization. F. C. Treffinger of Mahoning county is secretary. C. S. French of Salem, R. D., who has been treasurer for a number of years, was re-elected.

Committees Named

Here are the committees: Place—H. C. Williams, Lisbon; F. C. Heintzelman, Boardman; C. J. Smith, Portage county; publicity—C. F. Christian, Salem; William Leigh, who lives near Garfield, and Mrs. John Palmer, Portage.

Ohio Kiwanis Chief Convention Speaker

DETROIT, Mich., June 28.—Dr. John B. Wilkinson, of Alliance, governor of the Ohio Kiwanis district, appeared before the 16th annual convention of Kiwanis international here today to tell what Kiwanis clubs have accomplished in the Buckeye State.
The 130 clubs in Ohio are active in their communities and have completed hundreds of community and welfare activities in the last year," Doctor Wilkinson said.
He enumerated clubs and the number active in various phases of Kiwanis.

Sues Three Fliers

NEW YORK, June 28.—Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and the three aviators who flew the Atlantic with him two years ago had "a la carte travelling" down to the last word, a clothier who supplied them her on their arrival testified.
He is suing for payment of $1,229. They came sans toothbrush, razor or comb," he said.

FURORE LOOMS ON DEMOCRATIC WET-DRY PLANS

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 24.—The Democratic platform making committee neared a decision today on the prohibition issue which promised a convention furore paralleling the one it caused at the Republican party.
The majority of the Roosevelt-dominated committee plans to propose a plank favoring submission of a repeal amendment to state conventions.

That will not settle the quarrel for committee forces led by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts intended to carry their fight for a declaration straight-out repeal plank and modification of the Volstead act to the convention floor.
The committee virtually completed the farm relief plank.

Missouri For Walsh

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 28.—The Missouri delegates voted 18 to 14 at a caucus today to support Senator T. J. Walsh of Montana for the permanent chairmanship.
James A. Reed, Missouri's choice for the presidency had urged the delegates privately to support Joutet Shouse for the post. Mrs. Anna Nolan Christian, a delegate, said Reed was denied the privilege of addressing the delegation.

The band held its regular weekly rehearsal Monday night.
The program for Friday's concert is now being arranged by Hundertmark.

CURTIS BLAMES LINDY EMPLOYE IN KIDNAP CASE

Flier Takes Stand To Testify Against Alleged "Hoaxer"

(By Associated Press)
FLEMINGTON, N. J., June 27.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh testified today that John Hughes Curtis told him he had information that the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby was arranged by a member of the Lindbergh household, and that he thought that person was a girl.
For the second day Col. Lindbergh took the stand in the trial of Curtis for hindering capture of the baby's kidnappers and slayers.

Tells of Journeys

He told of a long series of journeys with Curtis in efforts to make contact with the kidnappers, all of which were futile.
And then he testified Curtis told him the kidnappers had disclosed to him that a member of the flier's own household was implicated.
Among spectators in the courtroom who heard this testimony were two women members of the Lindbergh domestic staff, Betty Gow, the baby's nurse, and Mrs. Ollie Wheatley, the housekeeper. Both were at the Lindbergh home in Hopewell when the baby was stolen. Both were questioned at

Two Hurt In Crash At Apples Corners

LISBON, June 28.—Two persons were injured when autos driven by O. S. Chambers of Cleveland and Ruth Cagley of Garrett, Ind., collided west of Apples Corners, near here Monday afternoon.
The injured, Andrew Neil of Cleveland, and Jane Egan of Youngstown, were taken to East Liverpool City hospital by S. S. Kelly of East Liverpool.
They sustained cuts and bruises.

Find Abandoned Car

LISBON, June 28.—An automobile bearing license plates 625-171 issued in Cleveland, was found two miles west of Columbiana by Deputy George Hays and William Virden Monday night and is being held here today for the owner, believed to be J. S. Grogg, Cleveland.

Sees Nomination Within 6 Ballots

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 28.—The voice that in 1924 led off each Democratic convention ballot with "Alabama casts 24 votes for Underwood" is just the same this year, but the tune is changed to "24 votes for Roosevelt."

The owner of the voice, former Governor W. W. Brandon of Alabama, has the lead-off place on roll calls. Brandon predicts a nomination in less than six ballots, and he has a reason.
"I started out in New York in 1924, in a $25 a day suite, but before that convention ended, I was eating hot dogs. And boys, I don't like hot dogs."

LEAVES MONEY FOR GYMNASIUM

Former Wellsville Mayor Creates Trust Fund of $55,000

LISBON, June 28.—A trust fund of $55,000 has been created by the will of the late Byron D. Beason of Youngstown, for the erection of a school gymnasium and the purchase of equipment, according to the instrument filed for probate by Atty. W. R. MacDonald of Wellsville, and one of the executors of the estate as indicated in the text.

Must Be Accepted

This fund, however, depends upon acceptance within 36 months by proper legislation of the board of education of the City of Wellsville, and by the purchase of suitable ground upon which the gymnasium building may be erected.
The inventory of the estate has not been filed, but the text shows an admission on the part of the testator that the drop in the value of the securities owned by him "has caused concern."
Suggestion is made to the court that W. R. MacDonald, Jesse F. Calhoun and Dr. Gavin W. McMillen be named executors.

In the event that the board of education fails to accept the legacy according to the terms of the will, then the $55,000 set aside shall be used for the benefit of worthy boys and girls, graduates of Wellsville High school who desire a higher education. For this purpose, the will provides that the Byron D.

Faces Court Today On Robbery Charge

LISBON, June 28.—William Crawford of East Liverpool went on trial in the court of Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones this morning on an indictment charging him with robbery in connection with the theft of $41 from the Fred Pancake garage, Middletown township.
Crawford, indicted by the recent grand jury, entered a plea of not guilty. He is represented by Atty. W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville.

OHIO FIGHTS RULE MOVE; O.K.'S SHOUSE

Governor Geo. White On Job to Keep Delegates In Line

BY H. H. DAUGHERTY, Associated Press Staff Writer.

CHICAGO, June 28.—With governor George White of Ohio here, presumably to take a personal hand in the Democratic national convention, the Buckeye delegation prepared to carry the fight for retention of the two-thirds rule to the convention floor.

Ohio delegates also were ready to stand back of Mrs. Bernice S. Pyke, national committee woman, in her choice of Joutet Shouse for permanent chairman.

Pomerene Fights for Rule

While it is not expected any one of the delegates will take the floor to urge selection of Shouse, former Senator Atlee Pomerene was ready to make the fight for retention of the two-thirds rule. Pomerene represented Ohio on the rules committee where he opposed the proposition to use the two-thirds rule for six ballots and then if no nomination is made to permit the convention to decide whether the nomination shall be by majority.

Chairman Brunner said the proposed rule was no more acceptable to the Ohio delegation than the original Roosevelt plan to discard the two-thirds rule at the start and make the nomination by majority. Brunner said he expected the Ohio delegation to vote almost solidly for Shouse and in favor of retention of the two-thirds rule.

Former Governor James M. Cox continued to confer with conven-

O'BRIEN STILL AMONG MISSING; QUESTION BOND

Prosecutor Asks Judgment of $6,000 Against Sureties

LISBON, June 28.—Validity of a $6,000 bond posted for the release of James O'Brien from the county jail was questioned by Attorney J. N. Hingley of Youngstown before Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court Monday afternoon. Hingley represented Martha M. Hales of Youngstown, one of the sureties, who signed the bond for a promised fee of $100, it was testified during the hearing.

Three Indictments

Three indictments were returned against O'Brien by the grand jury. After his bond was signed by Mrs. Hales and Jennie McDowell, both of Youngstown, and Tony Noceri of Salem, he immediately left for New York and has never returned, although his case has been assigned for trial several times.

One indictment against O'Brien charged him with operating a motor vehicle without consent of the owner, and he was named jointly in two indictments with Brian Gavin for shooting at, with intent to kill, C. E. Donahay and H. O. Stanley, and for burglary and larceny of the premises of Earl Santee. In the latter cases bond was set at $2,500 each and on the motor vehicle indictment bond was fixed at $1,000.

Vincent, president of the Book club for the 1932-33 season was elected a delegate from the club to the annual convention of the middle east district Ohio Federation of Clubs, at Marietta, the first week in October, at the annual picnic of the club Monday afternoon at the Salem Country club. Mrs. Robert Wilson, retiring president, is the alternate.

On account of the convention the club will hold its opening meeting on Oct. 10, instead of Oct. 3, as previously planned.

CHICAGO STADIUM, June 28.—The rules of the last Democratic convention requiring a two-thirds majority for nomination of a presidential candidate were adopted by the rules committee today after the compromise was cast aside.

BYRON PRICE

Associated Press Staff Writer (By Associated Press)

CHICAGO STADIUM, June 28.—Bewildered by night of somersaulting developments, and wholly uncertain what might happen next, the Democrats reassembled today in the stadium to loiter through a couple of credentials contests while their real issues waited outside the wings.
Louisiana's turbulent factions, and a Roosevelt-Smith contest from Minnesota claimed the floor with appeals to the party's highest court—the convention itself.

Select Chairman Today

One question that was to be settled today was the selection of a permanent chairman. The candidates were Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, backed by the supporters of Roosevelt, and Joutet Shouse of Kansas, choice of the opposition. Every canvass indicated the result was close.

It appeared the much-heralded battle over the two-thirds nominating rule never would be staged after all. Just before noon convening hour the Roosevelt camp, after modifying its previous demand for abrogation of the rule, withdrew it entirely.

How all of this might react eventually on the big central problem of the nomination itself, no one knew. Undoubtedly the shifting of policy among the Rooseveltians had greatly encouraged the opposition in their attempts to break down entirely the New Yorker's dominance, and several southern delegations previously counted as his were reported wavering.

GIVE UP FIGHT ON TWO-THIRDS

Roosevelt Leaders Call Off Proposals For Rule Change

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 28.—Roosevelt leaders called off all proposals for any change in the two-thirds nominating rule today as the report from the rules committee impended.

A new meeting of the rules committee was ordered by Chairman Kremer after James A. Farley, spokesman for Governor Roosevelt of New York, made a surprise appearance before the committee this morning and announced his favored retention of the two-thirds rule throughout the convention.

The majority of the committee which last night voted for a special rule permitting abrogation of the two-thirds precedent by a majority vote after six ballots, withdrew from the committee and went into conference with Farley.

A Total Loss

CHICAGO, June 28.—No convention today; the Democrats met, talked, agreed and adjourned. So the day was a total loss. The convention officially opens tomorrow.

It wasn't even a rehearsal today, nobody fought, nobody even split the party.

Well, if you ever saw a disgusted bunch of people leaving a hall, it was all of us today. Here people had traveled hundreds of miles, joined delegations, some came as spectators and paid fancy prices to see what? To see 1,100 delegates sit there and act like a lot of Republicans.
Why, two more sessions like this one today and you will have no more people listening to you over the radio than the Republicans did. Be Democrats, fight, fight and don't put on another synthetic thing like that today.

PROPHETS

Senator Alben W. Barkley, whose keynote speech thundered through the amplifiers and echoed among the girders in Chicago's huge convention hall Monday, performed a cherished assignment creditably from every angle. No staunch Democrat could ask for more; no Republican could expect less.

Senator Barkley, possessor of a long record in congress, took full advantage of an opportunity that dozens of Democrats besides himself would have seized eagerly, had they been the lucky ones. Never has there been a year more auspicious for the minority party's scathing criticism. Be it to the senator's credit that he let nothing escape him.

Americans are in trouble because "they have followed prophets who were false, blind and insensitive to their own limitations," was the text of his stirring oration. Wisely, he avoided mention of specific actions that the Democratic party would have taken to prevent happening what already has happened. It is enough for the opposition to speak of the future, wherein rest a thousand-and-one possibilities for improvement.

Senator Barkley promised that Democrats will enact a scientific tariff and invigorate international trade by an international conference.

Democrats will relieve farmers' burdens by appointing a good secretary of agriculture, opening trade channels, discouraging governmental extravagance and encouraging co-operative marketing.

Democrats will grant unemployment relief from the federal government.

Democrats will advocate a shorter work day and a shorter work week.

Democrats will reduce expenses.

Democrats will revise federal reserve act and the personnel of the system.

Democrats will restrict stock market operations.

Democrats will improve supervision and control of banks.

Democrats will make an unequivocal statement on the 18th amendment.

This is an impressive list of promises. It is a credit to the Democratic party, and it should be considered gravely by the Republican party. Unfortunately, it is subject to the severest curse that the public can lay on a political program—skepticism. In other years Republicans have made promises so pleasing to the people that popular favor has been won. Inability to keep them after election has made the people skeptical of either party's power to accomplish any complete program for national salvation.

Of Republicans, the Democratic keynote thunders that they are prophets "false, blind and insensitive to their own limitations." For their weaknesses he demands, as punishment, voters' disfavor in the coming election; he grants Republicans no qualities worthy of public favor. In substance, he claims that Democratic prophets are true, blessed with superhuman vision and completely aware of their limitations.

Senator Dickinson's keynote speech for the Republican party was criticized severely because it was a repetition of the type of bombastic utterance that always has characterized such speeches. Senator Barkley, speaking for the Democratic party, has upheld the tradition of political prophets, "insensible to their own limitations." His speech was more interesting, because he had a better opportunity to abuse the opposition, but at its best it was no more nor less than another run-of-the-mill batch of political promises. The people are in no mood to be taken in easily this year. Political speechmaking needs to be brought up to date.

HALF KING

It probably would not be given out for publication if King George of England were to wire his sedate congratulations to the latest of the constitutional monarchs, King Prajadhipok of Siam. It wouldn't be tactful to tell the world how kings feel about such things.

The literate Siamese might be puzzled when they found out that the king of the world's greatest empire considered a constitutional monarchy, properly handled and adjusted, the answer to the prayers of dozens of unfortunate kings of days past who ruined their health or lost their necks trying to perform all the jobs on the ship of state.

The reserved English, on the other hand, might be offended if they were to read, in so many words, that King George considered himself lucky to be able to sit on a throne whose principal functions are ornamentation and symbolism. They rarely attempt to put down for curious readers their conception of the crown; the king should attempt no more.

Nevertheless, he, of all people, knows best why wily little King Prajadhipok isn't broken up about the orderly demonstration that changed Siam from an absolute to a constitutional monarchy almost overnight. Perhaps it isn't assuming too much to believe that kingly gentlemen may retire occasionally to the remotest corner of the royal bedchamber, there to explode a few royal guffaws in the cup of a mighty hand as they think of the wonders that practical philosophy can perform for a monarch who wants a job without too much responsibility.

What Others Say

FORWARD, MARCH

There is no thought of surrender in the minds of members of the Grand Army of the Republic in Ohio. They will carry on so long as a corporal's squad is left to keep the campfire burning. Less than 200 were able to march in the parade at the recent encampment at Lima, but, with magnificent courage, they ordered plans made for the encampment next June at Newark.

The G. A. R. must go on, even if most members are around 90 years of age, in harmony with their own ambitions, and in token of respect to the boys in the days when they fought under Grant, Logan, Thomas and others. They are grimly courageous today, when bent with age and the burden of the years, they insist on going ahead.

Not one of the veterans is ready to let their unique organization drop out of the picture. They close ranks, touch elbows and find in that a thrill that cheers their souls. They have held public admiration all through all the years, but never more certainly than today, as they face the front, heads up, hearts strong, determined to carry on.—Ohio State Journal.

HEALTH

Diet During Convalescence

Many criticize the doctors, claiming they are negligent about giving proper instructions regarding the diet of the sick. In hospital cases the diet is supervised by a trained nurse, who readily understands what the doctor means by a "light diet," a "liquid diet," or a "solid diet." But in the home, these critics say, the doctors should give definite instructions as to what the diet to be given the patient.

The quality and quantity of food which should be prescribed is determined by the activity of the ailing person. If he lies quietly in bed he does not need as much food as when he is about and working. Nevertheless, the bed-ridden patient must have nourishment, for the body needs energy and heat to aid in the patient's recovery.

For those recovering from infectious diseases, the diet should be light and simple. During the course to the fever most of the foods given are in liquid form. As the fever subsides and disappears, the amount of nutrition should be increased, but this increase should be gradual. A "liquid diet" does not mean water merely. It includes all nourishing foods in the form of fluids. Milk is the best foundation for a liquid diet, while gruels, broths, and fruit-juices may be added.

When the doctor orders a simple diet he has in mind food that is substantial and nourishing but easily digested. A simple diet includes milk, eggs, toast, cereals, custards and milk puddings. To this list vegetables, fresh fruits and meats may be added gradually. The food should never be forced, and it should be served in a tempting and appetizing manner.

Tonics are not as popular as they used to be. They have been replaced by prescribing certain natural spring waters and carbonated beverages. Most patients convalescing from serious ailments and confined to bed develop a tendency toward constipation. For this reason, stewed fruits and vegetables that have mild laxative action should be included in the diet.

In serious ailments the diet should be personally supervised by a physician, and the complications of infectious diseases require unusual attention. When the kidneys are involved, as in scarlet fever, a special diet must be prescribed. In diabetes, it is impossible to prescribe the diet until there have been careful and repeated estimations of the amount of sugar present in the urine and blood, and if diet does not alter the underlying diabetes, insulin should be given.

Water Is Valuable Aid

Water is an indispensable part of the convalescent's diet that is often neglected. Bright's disease is the only disease where the amount of water should be limited. Water should be placed beside the bed and the patient encouraged to drink a glass of water every hour. Water aids in diluting the poisons accumulated within the body, and in the proper digestion of other foods.

In disease, certainly, and usually in health, fried and greasy foods should be avoided; salts, peppers, spices and condiments should be used sparingly, and excessive amounts of tea, coffee and alcoholic beverages should be eliminated. Food should be chewed slowly and carefully.

NEW YORK, June 28—Thirteen legitimate shows struggled for patronage against a list of 34 during a corresponding low week of last year. In normal times the slack season usually supported about a half hundred. Thus has the current summer been calamitous along the Rialto.

For two weeks not a new offering was scheduled. Charles Dillingham's Globe, long the home of Montgomery and Stone, went into receivership and Earl Carroll's decisively angled temple passed to other hands. The big movie, Roxy, "went through the wringer." The Hippodrome is shuttered.

Until Fall no one can predict the likelihood of a winter revival. Already there are rumors several dramatic and motion picture departments may merge, throwing critics in both divisions out of jobs. The gloom is thick in Dinty Moore's and Lindy's where theatrical folk gather.

Tables, once bubbling with wit, now reveal an aura of gloom. Even Frisco, wandering from cafe to cafe, scattering stuttering sallies, is glumly mute. The leading clubs—Players, Friars and Lambs—are morgue-like. Only stiff extra assessments stayed the sheriff.

Vaudeville's last frontier—the Palace—got off to a bad start with its continuous performances. To many it is only a memory. No phase of theatricals is untouched. Even that cheer leader Sime begins to voice a threnody in Variety. And Sime knows.

After numerous sabbatical years I journeyed to the Polo Ground the other day to see a professional baseball game. My chief reaction was the surprising youth of the players. I never realized before what mere boys they are. My enthusiasm, too, had jelled. After a few innings I found myself building words out of the sign-board letters and departed before the last ball was pitched. I can understand why McGraw quit.

Also I am one of the bewildered antiquarians constantly wincing at the illegitimizing of the tender turns for wife, sweetheart and partner. Such similes as red hot mama, sugar-daddy, frail skirt, head-ache, ball-and-chain and the like. Once, too, hostess was a term for gentle ladies who gave "afternoons" on the lower avenue. Today it is a symbol for gyp hussies of the dance halls and clip joints.

Against the library wall a sidewalk salesman, displaying a suitcase of cloth samples, bespeaks the times in a jagged poetical singsong: "Patches for coats, vests and pants. Match them yourself. A dime, ten cents."

There is a nipping humor in the aside remarks of the pavement hawk—on edge of sarcasm whetted, one presumes, by flagstones. Idling before a little table

Named for Governor

Leader of a political faction known as "The Rumpers," John E. Regan (above) has been nominated as the Democratic candidate for Governor of Minnesota. "The Rumpers" opposed the seating of a Roosevelt-instructed delegation to the Democratic National Convention, advocating one favorable to Alfred E. Smith.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, June 29. The lunar configurations operating on the affairs of this day are of rather minor consequence, especially as pertaining to business and routine matters. Although there is a sign read as favorable to money and there may be a minor change or journey of advantage. The attention seems to be centered on social, domestic or romantic activities, especially the latter, which holds promise of courtship or marriage, with much happiness marking events.

Those whose birthday it is may count on a very happy year, with the interests bound up in social, domestic and affectional activities, with the prospect of courtship, marriage and friendship bringing much felicity. A child born on this day should be talented in artistic expression, of social graces and accomplishments and should have a happy and fairly prosperous life.

NOTICE
To Ohio Edison
Customers

The special United States Internal Revenue act imposing a 3 percent tax upon electrical energy used for domestic or commercial consumption became effective June 21. This tax will be included in Electric Service bills received by customers on or after July 1, applicable from date effective.

COMPANY A TAX COLLECTOR—Article 42 of the act provides that "the person who pays for the electrical energy furnished must also pay the tax thereon, and such tax must be collected by the person who furnishes the services." Ohio Edison Company thereby merely acts as a government agent in the collection of this tax.

METHOD OF COLLECTION—A sum equal to 3% of the amount to be paid for Electric Service will be included in your monthly bill. The rates charged for Electric Service remain the same. Discounts on bills paid within the discount period remain unchanged.

TAX IS ON AMOUNT PAID—If you permit payment to go beyond your last discount day, you must pay tax upon the money you would have saved by prompt payment. For example—If your Electric bill is $5.60, the discount being 50 cents, and you paid within the discount period, the tax would be 3 percent of $5.10, making your total payment $5.25. If your bill is not paid within the discount period, the tax will be 3 percent of $5.60, making a total payment of $5.77.

Tells How Federal Land Banks Help Farms and Farmers

Farmers of Columbiana County have 128 first farm mortgage loans from the Federal Land Bank of Louisville, amounting to $365,100, according to a statement made recently by A. G. Brown, president of that bank. The bank makes no loans directly to farmers; all loans made by it originate with the national farm loan associations of which there are one or more in practically every county in the United States.

"What these long-term, co-operative first farm mortgage loans mean to the farmers having them is brought forcefully to mind at this time," continued Mr. Brown, "when farmers having short-term loans on their properties are endeavoring to re-finance them. Such farmers frequently find that they are required not only to pay a three to five per cent commission for re-funding the loan but to make a very substantial payment upon the principal. In these days it is difficult indeed for a farmer to find the cash with which to do this, and the cash with which to do this is the cash which he needs to run his farm."

"If all the borrowers from the Federal Land bank were forced to refinance their properties at this time, more than 40,000 farmers in our territory—Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee—would find the situation almost impossible. We feel, therefore, that the Federal Land Bank, through the national farm loan associations, is contributing materially to the welfare of agriculture and placing farmers in a safe position."

"Many a borrower from this co-operative system, before he obtained his loan from it, was paying a sufficiently high rate to pay the interest on his loan from the Federal Land bank and also the installment on his principal. All of our loans must be paid off systematically and they run for periods of 20 to 30 odd years. At no time is the borrower required to pay a very large sum and there are no renewal charges. When you take these factors into consideration, the borrower usually can refinance his old loan through this co-operative institution and gradually pay off his indebtedness at no more cost to him than the short-term loan, commissions and other expenses.

According to recent figures issued by the department of agriculture, nearly half of the farm mortgage loans are made for a period of five years and only about 10 per cent for as long as 10 years. The Federal Land banks' loans run for 20 to 30 odd years and thus give the borrower an opportunity to repay from the business operations of the farm. Of course, all borrowers are encouraged to pay their debts off more rapidly, if they will. Due to the fact that the mortgage runs for such a long period, the farms have to be appraised very carefully and conservatively on the basis of their earning power over a series of years rather than the current selling price."

Due to the fact that the mortgage runs for such a long period, the farms have to be appraised very carefully and conservatively on the basis of their earning power over a series of years rather than the current selling price."

Nurse's Past Life Object of Attack By Hutton Lawyers

LOS ANGELES, June 28.—The "past life" of Myrtle Joan St. Pierre, was the object of an attack by defense counsel today in her suit for $200,000 for alleged breach of promise against David Hutton, choir singer and husband of Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist.

Defense attorneys said Hutton probably would take the witness stand. His appearance will follow the testimony of witnesses, who, Hutton's attorneys said, will reveal that the 30-year-old twice married, attractive nurse entertained men at her home prior to and subsequent to her alleged romance with the baritone.

Miss St. Pierre, in cross-examination of her story of alleged betrayal by Hutton prior to his marriage to the evangelist, denied having told a woman friend Hutton was "a pudding head and a mama's boy," and that she had "no use for him."

While her husband was having his day in court, the evangelist also was having her legal difficulties. Superior Judge Arthur Crum yesterday decided Mrs. Hutton must pay $10,000 to Harvey H. Gates, scenario writer for the scenario of a film play which she planned and which never was made.

TODAY

EVERYTHING is uncertainty, and many complications are involved, for instance, to put it bluntly, as politicians do: "What would Governor Roosevelt do about Judge Seabury's charges against Mayor Walker, if Mr. Curry, whose fondness for Mayor Walker is like that of a father, should turn his delegates against Governor Roosevelt?"

Those that know Governor Roosevelt believe that no action by the convention would influence his judgment, in a matter affecting a man's career. But politicians, skeptical, quote the story of the two gentlemen, one afraid of a barking dog, "Don't you know," asked one, "that a barking dog never bites?" The other replied, "Yes, I know it, and you know it, but does the dog know it?" You have heard that story, but not in connection with a presidential nomination.

FOR LIGHT let us wander on to "candidates' row" in the Congress hotel. Ripley would hardly dare print it, but the candidates are all strung out on one floor, like department stores in State st. and explain this, if you can without a Chicago psychological chart, that row is on floor B. You are told that it is the eleventh floor. The elevator puts you out and its the second floor. Yes, the eleventh floor is the second floor in that hotel.

IN A LONG ALLEY, walls covered with placards, are the headquarters of many that sit and wait, knowing the uncertainties of the lightning's stroke. You see Senator Reed's headquarters, many waiting for that hard fighter who has served his state and the nation so well. He is in a conference of delegates.

Names and signs, signs and names, but a strong current draws you reminding you of that story about the maelstrom that would pull down a ship.

Carried by the crowd you reach the sign Smith and look at three rooms jammed, with at least as many women as men. Mayor Hague of Jersey City is going in, and you pass through the hole that he makes in the crowd, as the Crompton or Neanderthal person followed in the wake of the mammoth.

Through one room packed, through another room packed, into a third room not packed, through a door beside which Mrs. Smith is sitting with Mrs. Money. Beyond the door sits Governor Smith, at a desk, his faithful cigar not far away.

He is out for himself, as he has said not for anybody else. He does not believe that anybody will break the two-thirds rule. And before the day ends news comes that Governor Roosevelt will not try to break it.

Governor Smith is in good spirits. He has been fighting for 40 years, usually winning. This fight will be hard. He knows it. Today he has not a delegate pledged south of the Mason and Dixon line, or west of the Mississippi river. Nevertheless in 1928 he got 6,000,000 more votes than any Democrat ever got before, and will keep on fighting, not from a distance, but from the convention floor. The school in which he was raised believes in being on the spot.

THE IMPRESSION you get, hearing all sides, is that beating Governor Roosevelt is going to be a hard task even for these most experienced politicians. Democrats think they can win this time. They know that Governor Roosevelt has many delegates. The band wagon may start any moment. Why delay? Why not climb up?

Hard On Lobsters

BOSTON, June 28.—A lobster's inability to "take it" electrically will henceforth be sufficient to rule him off Massachusetts tables.

O'BRIEN STILL AMONG MISSING

Prosecutor Asks Judgment of $6,000 Against Sureties

resented O'Brien at his arraignment before the court, and also in the matter of obtaining bond. This counsel went before Judge Lones recently and informed the court that their client had informed them he would be "back in Ohio within a few days." This statement was made by Attorney Powell.

Asked for Sureties

When the case was called for trial several weeks ago and O'Brien was not in court, Prosecuting Attorney John E. Bauknecht filed a motion with the court to have the sureties appear and show cause why judgment should not be entered against them on the bond, or else produce O'Brien in open court.

Mrs. Hales was the only one of the three sureties to appear, and oppose the entering of a judgment on the bond.

"There has been some peculiar maneuvering in this case from the very beginning," Prosecutor Bauknecht informed the court, "that has not been found in the ordinary run of cases. Had Mrs. Hales desired to be released from the bond, she should have come into court in the regular way and filed her request, and under the circumstances, the state asks a judgment on the bond for $6,000."

Neither Jennie McDowell or Tony Noeri was represented at this hearing. The court reserved decision.

EARLY RUMORS ON COMPROMISE

Names of Newton Baker, Ritchie Mentioned Frequently

promise candidate as the delegates, weary from conferences, lasting most of the night, assembled slowly in the convention hall. Ritchie of Maryland was mentioned as a possible beneficiary of a breakup of present alignments, and the name of Newton D. Baker was heard in many delegations.

But it was a little early to be thinking of such things in any definite way. The preliminary tests of the predominant Roosevelt strength were awaited before anything conclusive could be considered.

Roosevelt men reiterated their confidence they would show a majority on the opening ballot, which probably will be reached Thursday or Friday, and climb upward repeatedly to the two-thirds now accepted as the needed margin.

Toledo Building Burns, Loss $300,000

TOLEDO, O., June 28.—Causing damage estimated at $300,000, fire destroyed a three-story brick building in the downtown business section here early today. Five persons were injured, none seriously. An explosion preceded the blaze.

The structure, located on Superior street near Madison avenue, was occupied by the Western Auto Supply Co., and the Western Auto Supply Co., and the Western Auto Supply Co., manufacturers of caps and gloves. Both concerns' stocks of merchandise were lost.

The injured who were two firemen, a spectator, and two employees of the Northwestern Ohio Gas company were treated for cuts and bruises.

All available fire-fighting apparatus was called out as the flames threatened to spread to adjoining buildings.

Fire department officials were not immediately able to ascertain the cause of the fire or to account for the explosion.

Hoover Proposals Spurned by Britain

LONDON, June 28.—The British cabinet was understood today to have turned down more or less diplomatic thumbs on President Hoover's disarmament proposals.

After a discussion of the Hoover plan last night the ministers were reported to have agreed the plan did not provide for enough naval vessels for the needs of the empire. The cabinet was reported to have been of the opinion that a plan which permitted fewer larger ships and more small ones would save just as much money and suit Britain better.

Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader, told the house of commons there were many other counter-proposals at Geneva which the British would have to consider as well as the Hoover plan.

Garage Robbery Attempt Is Fatal

NORWALK, O., June 28.—An alleged hold-up man was shot and probably fatally wounded early today in an attempted garage robbery at Wakeman, 15 miles east of here.

The wounded man said he was John Blaha, 20, of Cleveland. An accomplice escaped.

Sheriff H. D. Smith of Huron county said the robbers confronted Carl Neiding, night attendant at the garage, with a drawn gun and demanded his money.

THE DAY IN SPORTS

BIG SPORTS WEEK AHEAD
FENNIS, GOLF, TRACK
SOFTBALL'S BOOKED TOO

HERE'S THE sports schedule booked for Salem fans during the coming week:

TODAY, Wednesday, Friday—Class A Softball league games at Centennial park.

THURSDAY—Church league softball.

FRIDAY NIGHT—A. A. U. track meet at Reilly athletic stadium.

SATURDAY—Opening rounds in municipal tennis tourney at Country Club.

SUNDAY—Baseball at Dunn Eden lake, Lake Placid; softball at Centennial park, more of tennis tourney at Country Club.

MONDAY, July 4—Finals of tennis tourney at club; medal play golf tourney at Salem Golf club; softball tourney at German home, Winona rd.; big outdoor program at Country Club.

IT'S A BUSY week ahead of these sports fans who like to keep up with athletic events being held in the city. There is something doing every day for everyone, softball games in the Class A and church league, a night track and field meet, tennis tournament, golf tournament and a gala program at the Country Club.

Jupiter Pluvius, refreshing farm lands with a steady rainfall Monday, halted the opening of the second round of play in the municipal softball circuit but, weather permitting, two games will be staged at Centennial park this evening. The Salem China meets Veterans of Foreign Wars and Greenlee Tires oppose the Harold Cox Studios in today's twinnish.

And, while we're on the subject of mushball, there are plenty of other teams in the city and the majority of them will be busy during the week. The Broadway Chislers, Knights of Pythias, Schaefer's Recreation, Eagles lodge, Broadway Leafers are a few of those who will be vying for honors on the diamond.

There are more than 28 softball teams in the city this year.

PAIRINGS for the municipal tennis tournament will be made Friday night and announced in sports columns of The News Saturday. Kenneth Jewell, George Emery, Oscar Tolerton and Thomas Moore are in charge of the competition.

Any players wishing to compete in the event are requested to notify either of the above quartet. An entry fee of 25 cents is being charged to help defray expenses.

First round matches will be played Saturday with contests being continued Sunday until, if possible, finals will be played Monday. Thomas French is defending champion in singles while Tom Moore and Walter Hartsock will be called on to defend their championship in doubles. The Moore-Hartsock combination won the title both in 1930 and 1931.

REILLY STADIUM should be the scene of another spectacular event Friday night when the field's floodlight system will be thrown on a battles in track and field between more than 100 athletes expected to compete in an A. A. U. meet managed by Wilbur Springer.

It is the first meet of its kind ever held in Salem and Springer is working overtime to insure its success. The Salem principals' great work in previous meets here and his fine record as an athletic coach has won him renown and athletes are glad of the opportunity of participating in a meet in Salem.

SALEM FANS are awaiting the showing here of pictures of the Schmeling - Sharkey heavyweight championship fight. Interest is aroused mainly because of the fact that the pictures are said to prove conclusively that Sharkey defeated the German and earned the decision which gave him the championship title.

Motion pictures don't lie and they often give an even better story of an athletic contest than was told spectators who actually witnessed the event.

A movie audience last month watched April the Fifth win the Epsom Downs derby as the race was run 14 miles back Reynolds, 150, defeated Paddy Nolan, 147, of Florida, (9-02). Gino Garibaldi, 215, Italy, downed Floyd Marshall, 225, Phoenix, Ariz., (15-32). Charlie Fox, 215, Cleveland, dethroned Willie Davis, 225, of the University of Virginia.

Smiling Gene Sarazen, the former Rye, N. Y. caddy, is shown being presented with the American Open Golf championship trophy by H. H. Ramsey, President of the U. S. Golf Association after winning the tournament at Fresh Meadows, Flushing, L. I. Fresh from his triumph in the British Open, Sarazen shot an astounding 66 for the last eighteen holes, four under par, for a total of 286. T. Philip Perkins and Bobby Cruikshank tied for second place with 289.

Detroit Tigers Show Class In Upsetting Chicago Sox

(By Associated Press)

Bucky Harris exploits at Washington in 1924 and '25, when he led the Senators to two pennants and one world championship, will pale by comparison if the former "boy manager" lands his Detroit Tigers as high as second place in the current American league race.

That other team was a veteran unit. His present team is his own, one he has built painstakingly in three years of honest effort.

Don't Look Strong

Even now, on paper, the Tigers do not look impressive. They were recruited largely from the international league, are playing winning ball, as eight victories in their last

COLLEGE GROUPS BAR BROADCASTS OF GRID GAMES

Eastern Athletic Union Takes Action; Hope to Increase Receipts

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 28—Football and radio have come to the parting of the ways so far as the Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic association is concerned.

Faced with the prospect of dwindling receipts, this group of 12 eastern colleges and universities voted to prohibit broadcasting of all football games played next season.

"We must take advantage of every opportunity to increase financial receipts of football games," said Major Philip B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at West Point, and president of the organization, declared in announcing the decision.

The association comprises a dozen of the largest schools in the east including Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Brown, Pittsburgh, Navy, Army, Columbia, Syracuse, Dartmouth and Penn State.

Indications that other sections colleges may follow the association's footsteps came from Chicago where Major John L. Griffith, western conference athletic commission, said

Big Ten Athletic directors were unanimously in favor of banning football broadcasts.

TWO U. S. STARS
MAY BATTLE IN TENNIS FINALS

(By Associated Press)

WIMBLEDON, ENGL., June 28.—There still is at least an even chance that the British women's tennis singles championship final will be an all-American affair.

California's two Helens — Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs — today had reached the semi-finals in opposite halves of the draw along with Mary Healey, little Irish player, and Mme. Rene Mathieu of France.

If Miss Jacobs can upset Mme. Mathieu in her next match and Mrs. Moody wins, as expected, over Miss Healey, the two Americans will fight it out for the title.

Attention shifted today to men's singles with quarter-final pairings pitting Ellsworth Cines against Enrique Maier of Spain; Sidney Wood against Jiroh Satoh, Frank Shields against Henry W. (Bunny) Austin, and Fred Perry, England, against Jack Crawford, Australia.

CASCADES CLUB, Hot Springs, Va., June 28—Colgate's steady shot maker, Henry "Hank" Kowal and John Fischer, Michigan ace, were co-favorites today to win medal honors as they faced the second qualifying round of the National Intercollegiate golf open championship.

Both shot 72, one over par, in the opening 18 holes of the qualifying assignment yesterday.

Two Yale golfers, Sidney Noyes and J. E. Parker, were two strokes back with 74's while three others — Richard Kimbrough, O. Harvard, John Howard of Michigan and D. Gamble, of Yale, have 75's.

They honors will be decided today with Yale, last year's winner, well ahead through the opening round. Michigan and Ohio State, however, are close behind.

Goliath and Ga-Ga Gladiator

This looks as if it's going to be another "battle of the century" with the little fellow holding the advantage. The principals in this gigantic mat struggle are Charlie Stack, prominent Boston grapple man, and his five-months-old son, Charlie, Jr. The little matman is still too young to know anything about the doctrine of "honor thy father," so he's putting the screws on the "old man" with a scissors hold on the arm.

PERKINS ENTERS WESTERN OPEN

Former British Champion
Among Stars Competing
In Cleveland Event

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, June 28.—The western open golf tournament drew another dangerous contestant today, T. Philip Perkins, former British amateur champion.

Perkins, who renounced his amateur status a month ago, tied with Bobby Cruikshank for second place in the national open last Saturday.

Sarazen, winner of the national open, will be among the large field of stars who will vie with Perkins again when the western open play begins Thursday at the Canterbury course in this city.

The winning score, in the opinion of Jack Way, Canterbury pro, will be 280, two strokes under par for each 18 holes. Was based his prediction on the keen competition expected from the high class field, and on the excellent condition of the course which was insured yesterday by an all-day rain.

This picture of King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambairani of Siam was made during their visit to the United States last year. The last absolute monarchs in the world, they are being held prisoner aboard a Siamese war vessel following the revolution in Bangkok.

THEATER Attractions

"THE STRANGE CASE OF CLARA DEANE" with Wynne Gibson and Pat O'Brien as its stars plays as the State's feature today.

Miss Gibson, who played so brilliantly in "Ladies of the Big House" is given her first starring role in the film.

Married to a worthless man, on the eve of his sentence for embezzlement, she struggles valiantly during the next five years to bring happiness to the life of their little daughter. Freed from prison, her thieving husband gets into a series of "jams" and when finally he is caught, Clara Deane is accused and sentenced as his accomplice.

Her daughter is adopted by the detective chief of the city, who brings her up as his own, into charming young womanhood. Released from prison, Clara Deane gets a job as a seamstress. She reads with a twinge of ironic joy that her daughter is about to be married to a worthy young man.

Discretion keeps her from making herself known to the young woman. Meanwhile her husband learns of the daughter's happy position in society—and threatens a blackmail campaign which will ruin the happiness of the young bride-to-be.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y.—The depression has created a plausible excuse for boys who "play hooky." When asked to explain why they failed to attend school, several boys explained they went fishing to provide food for hungry parents. Later the parents denied this.

Chilean Junta Hit By Discord Again

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 28.—Discord again struck the revolutionary junta in control of the Chilean government today.

Senor Carlos Davila, former ambassador to Washington, who led the first revolt June 4, and then resigned, to head a successful counter-revolt last week, carried on alone following the resignation yesterday of his two colleagues, Nolasco Cardenas and Armando Cabero.

Senor Cardenas and Senor Cabero told friends they were retiring because of disagreement with the policies of Davila.

The belief prevailed that Davila would continue to carry on, perhaps as provisional president, without replacing his colleagues.

REVOLT LOOMS ON WET ISSUE

Proposed Democrat Platform Plank Formed By Smith

CHICAGO, June 28.—A wet revolt of proportions surprising even its organizers was moving on the Democratic convention today demanding repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and immediate modification of the Volstead act.

This platform plank was proposed by Alfred E. Smith and the drive was launched by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, after a conference of the wet forces Senator Walsh conceded to his own astonishment in announcing that a preliminary estimate showed 20 states and territories behind the proposal, with a total vote of 566.

This is within a dozen votes of the majority necessary for adoption of a platform plank expressing the party in favor of repeal. However, the total is a hurried estimate and presidential-minded delegates have not been polled.

Southern and western forces were rallying behind the neutral repeal submission plank which the resolutions committee is preparing to report out tonight. It is the plank advanced by the Roosevelt leaders.

The advocates of Governor Roosevelt of New York for the presidential nomination pulled a surprise last night in the rules committee in reporting a proposal to have the platform considered by the convention. It is a new plan and what effect it will have on the impending prohibition battle is problematical.

Prohibition and farm relief planks remained.

Sounds Clarion Call for Democrats

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, keynote speaker of the Democratic convention in Chicago, is seen with gavel in hand on speaker's stand in the Chicago Stadium.

But It's Really Not an Endurance Contest

"Endurance" according to Mr. Webster's well-known book means, among other things, "continuance in bearing or suffering"—so it just couldn't be that kind of contest when our bedroom suites are involved. Sturdily built, without creak or groan to disturb one's slumbers, they are topped off with springs and mattresses form-fitting as a one-piece bathing suit — and a lot more comfortable. Their appearance is what one WOULD expect in such fine furniture!
